

MOVED THE HOUSE AGAINST HER WILL

Now Annie Butcher Wants Polly Mathews To Pay Her Damages.

CARRIED AWAY ON SUNDAY

Husband Says His Wife Could Not "Get Along With the Old Folks," So He Had To Do It.

A house moving case is occupying the attention of Judge Ritchie this morning. The plaintiff in the case, Annie Butcher, is suing Polly Mathews, et al, to recover $300 damages for the moving of a frame house alleged to belong to plaintiff and her husband from lot 20, of block 2, of Linden park addition. The complaint alleges that defendants came to the place on the 9th of June, 1907, which was a Sunday, and wilfully and maliciously moved away from said premises a two-room frame house against her will and protest, and she now seeks to recover damages for this act.

Her husband, appears in the case as a witness against his wife. He testified that he assisted in the moving of the house on the day and date named, and, in fact, paid his brother Isaac, according to his own testimony, $25 for moving the house. Mr. Butcher also testified that his wife could not get along with the "old folks," meaning Butcher's parents, who had been occupying the frame house, which was then and there moved, and he therefore authorized the moving away to another place the building as aforesaid.

Mrs. Butcher in her testimony owned up to having called the movers bad names at the time, and further testified that she acted like "dummkies" while she was so calling them names, but the house was moved and she wanted damages.

The husband was still on the witness stand when the court took its noon adjournment.

THE DICKERSON DIVORCE.

Wife Completes Statutory Period of Residence and Receives Decree.

Anna L. Dickerson was this morning given a decree of divorce from her husband, David B. Dickerson, by Judge Morse. The case came up for hearing on a second complaint on Saturday, but owing to the absence of the plaintiff, the case was continued until today. The couple were married at Coeur d'Alene City, Idaho, Jan. 24, 1905, and Mrs. Dickerson alleged in her complaint that her husband deserted her in October, 1906, at Seattle. She claimed that Salt Lake, which was her former home, and filed suit for divorce. The matter came up for hearing before Judge Morse on Feb. 7, but because of the absence of the plaintiff, the case was continued until today. On the second hearing, the residence requirement having been fulfilled, the decree was granted.

ECHO OF KOOYMAN.

Mrs. Eggen, officially known as "Jane Doe" Eggen, who figured in the troubles of the Kooymann family as the alleged "affinity" of the notorious John, now has troubles of her own. Her landlady, Mrs. J. S. Stephens, claims Mrs. Eggen is in arrears for rent in the sum of $57, for occupancy of the abode at 1060 east Second South street, and has instituted ejectment proceedings in the city court. When Mrs. Eggen rented the premises, Mrs. Stephens, Kooymann, divorced wife of the son of John Kooymann and sister of Mrs. Eggen, lived with her, but it is said she has left now and Mrs. Eggen is without means to pay her rent.

WATSON HELD FOR TRIAL.

As a result of the preliminary hearing before Judge Smith of Harry Watson and J. Wilson, charged with robbing the Amussen jewelry store of nearly $500 worth of rings and chains, a week ago Sunday, Watson was ordered held to await the action of the district court while Wilson, alias George Williams, was discharged from custody. In default of $500 bail, Watson will have to remain under the watchful eye of Sheriff Emery. When arrested Watson had a number of rings and chains on him and Mr. Amussen positively identified them as his property. It could not be shown that Wilson had anything to do with the robbery.

For more than a year past, Mrs. Tibbitt claims, he has failed to provide for her, and treated her in a cruel and inhuman manner, threatening to kill her at different times, and telling her he would whip her and shoot her, and otherwise frightening her and on one occasion, on or about the 15th of November, 1907, he struck her with his fists and knocked her down and kicked her. Plaintiff asks that she be given a decree of divorce, be restored to her maiden name, Emma Dickerson Wallace, $20 per month alimony, costs and attorneys' fees. G. W. LYNCH ARRESTED.

Charge Embezzlement to Former Director of Elk Coal Company.

George W. Lynch, formerly a director in the Elk Coal company, who was arrested Saturday by Deputy Sheriff Steele and Sperry on the charge of embezzling $3,000 from the company, will have a preliminary hearing before Judge C. B. Diehl in the criminal division of the city court on May 11. By agreement of counsel, Lynch was released on $1,000 bail, the bond being furnished by W. R. Sherwood, druggist, and William E. Howard, bookkeeper.

The arrest of Lynch occurred shortly after his return to the city. He was taken into the office of Judge M. M. Warner in the Commercial block and the sheriff's office was notified that Lynch was there. He was placed under arrest and taken before Judge Diehl for the purpose of fixing bail and for arraignment. He pleaded not guilty.

It is alleged that General Manager E. P. South of the company learned that Wyoming stockholders were buying shares of stock for less than their market value, and as the company owns 1,000 acres of patented lands near Kemmerer, an investigation was started. Mr. Lynch was sent to investigate and made the report, it is alleged, that 6,000 shares could be purchased for $5,400. It is further alleged that Lynch was given that amount with which to make the purchase and it is charged that he paid only $1,750 instead of $5,400, keeping the difference for his own use. It is claimed by officers of the company that Lynch gave to one man $1,000 and to three others $250 each.

Lynch, who is a Denver traveling man, was away when the warrant for his arrest was issued and did not learn of it until Saturday, when he resigned as a director of the company. He does not appear to be worrying at all over the affair, and claims that if he made any profit on the stock transaction it was legitimate and he had a right to it.

KNOWLEDGE OF CHRIST.

The Rev. Albert Buxton Tells of the True Christian Faith.

Rev. Albert Buxton preached in the Central Christian church yesterday on "Personal Knowledge of Christ." In the course of his remarks the speaker said:

"The fault of youth and the grand fallacy of foolish teaching is the memorizing of mere words, a feasting on printer's ink, a glutting of lamplight and incense oil. Hamlet, when asked what he was reading, replied, 'Words, words, words.' Many a child of three years is taught a jingle of sound, to him senseless, and the confident father fancies his boy is learning. Only the face-to-face, primary experience of life can interpret life, and each one will give his interpretation in terms of himself. A prayer meeting talk, however fervid, is valueless, though harmless, in which extravagant professions of loyalty to Christ and His church are mere words, words, words, not preceded by an experience of reality, nor followed by an application of His will."

"Each interprets Christ really in terms of his own experience. To the chronicler, he is merely a problem of dates and the great question about Jesus is merely whether he was born 4 B. C. and what was the day of his crucifixion. To the socialist he is a leader who gathered twelve followers and inspired a growing discipleship through the ages. To the city missionary, who has seen reformations, may, transformations, in His name, he is the regeneration of the world's worst slums. To the sad mother he is a solace in her otherwise despairing soul—a fixed faith in the uncertainties of life. A believer in Christ may be a more theory of thought a testimony in his own mind to the abiding faith only when the Christian, out of the depths of his own experience, can declare with the aged Paul: "I know in whom I have believed."

UNITY URGED.

Use of the Word "Insurgent" Condemned as Misnomer at Meeting.

With former State Secretary D. O. Rideout in the chair, instead of John Q. Critchlow, forty members of the Republican party met at the Wilson hotel Saturday evening to hear the reports of Mr. Critchlow's committee of 15 and the sub-committee of seven under Col. A. B. Irvine, which had presented a request to the state committee. The request was that the Republican convention be held in the city of Salt Lake to permit the discussion of all matters pertaining to the Republican party, and the committee's report took note of the fact that the call contained a clause embracing this purpose.

The meeting was given up to a discussion of conditions within the Republican party that were considered to militate against the chances for winning the next election. The use of the word "insurgent" was condemned as a misnomer, the men present claiming that they were not the party, and were not bolters who would leave it even if they proved to be in the minority.

Among the speakers were Leroy Armstrong, A. B. Irvine, J. C. McClain, John A. Houghton, Geo. N. Lawrence, Stephen A. Love, Geo. Wilson, James Devine and Chairman Rideout. Discussion was focused upon the purpose of nominating the next U. S. senator in the convention instead of leaving the task to the legislature, and upon the resolution passed by the state committee, concerning certain state officers for their work in the legislature, and afterwards in petitioning the state committee.

An address to Republican voters was adopted, urging unity and harmony, and giving a brief history of the dissenting movement. A mass meeting will be called in the near future.

WOMEN GET TO COURT.

Mrs. Pansy Street Hit Mrs. Margaret Missell, it is charged.

Asst. City Atty. Edgar Rogers issued a complaint this morning against Mrs. Pansy Street, charging her with battery upon Mrs. Margaret Missell, a woman who resides at 738 Allen street.

The alleged battery occurred in the People's cash store in West First South street last evening, and seems to have been the result of a neighborhood mixup, brought on by daughters of the complainant and defendants. According to the story told by the police, the girls exchanged rings several days ago and had a quarrel over them, each making an accusation against the other. The dispute led to a fight between Mrs. Street and Mrs. Missell and when the two met in the store Saturday evening hot words were followed by blows. It is alleged that Mrs. Street struck Mrs. Missell in the face and in support of the statement she exhibited this morning a pair of badly discolored eyes and a pair of broken teeth. "FINEST" IN GAY ATTIRE.

Coming of Torrid Weather Will Bring Out New Styles on the Force.

With the advent of "the good old summer time," Chief of Police Pitt is preparing to make real deals of his officers, especially the common patrolmen. The men may select their summer uniform, but the chief is to have the say as to the color and cut of the cloth in all probability the men will want to wear single breasted blouse coats so they will be as comfortable as possible during the hot weather. Some of the men would like a sort of an open front coat, but the chief will veto any such movement. He insists that the coats shall button "right up to the neck" and that the men shall wear white collars. The chief wants to leave their blouses unbuttoned they may as well, but they will have to wear white vests and clean shirts. The chief did not say why he proposed to inflict such cruel punishment upon the men as to compel them to wear clean shirts, collars, or even white vests, but the men will either have to do as he says or keep their coats buttoned.

BUSY IN NEW OFFICES

Rio Grande Installed in Judge Building—Added Facilities Afforded Busy Businessmen.

With the opening day of the Rio Grande ticket offices in the Judge block, the first definite move was made to utilize in Salt Lake the vast amount of new office space which has lately been added to the town's capacity.

Tickets over the Rio Grande road were sold today to the tune of buzzing waves and pouring showers. On every side other rooms were being rushed to completion as the northwest corner room had already been, at least to a point where the ticket cases could be moved in and clerks could work provided they kept their overcoats on.

It will be Oct. 1 before the entire amount of office room to be added to Main street building work is now in progress, is made available. By that date, however, the office space available will be increased by approximately 40 per cent. In the Newhouse and Boston blocks there are 700 rooms to become available. In the Judge building there are 210 rooms above the first floor.

The rental space of Salt Lake office buildings has been figured by real estate men 607,875 feet, with 257,000 feet to be added by structures now under process of construction.

Besides their effect on training business men to want the most up-to-date conveniences the office buildings will release renters from paying premium prices on many buildings that are without elevators or are of old fashioned construction. Some buildings are certain to be built on a new basis, while in the new center of professional life, a population of from 1,500 to 2,000 office renters is expected to establish itself. For cars, buy a ticket from the old Rio Grande office today and with the week the freight office will be adjoining the passenger office in the new site. This removal is one of historic importance and it is the pioneer effort toward making a new railroad center, and the abandonment of West Second South as "railroad row."

CRUISER AND STEAMER COLLIDE

Twenty-eight Dead and Missing As Result of Collision Between The Gladiator and St. Paul.

APPARENTLY UNAVOIDABLE
Crews Behaved Well—Board of Trade Will Institute the Usual Inquiry.

London, April 26.—The total number of dead and missing of the Gladiator's crew as a result of a collision between the American liner 'St. Paul' and the British cruiser off the Isle of Wight, is 28. The admiralty late tonight issued a revised list of the names of the Gladiator victims, which includes an additional death in the hospital, bringing the total of deaths known up to five. Twenty-three men are missing, according to the list, and six are suffering severe injuries. The secretary of the admiralty expresses fear that the dead and still eight others missing, but is unable to give the names as yet. Divers today searched part of the sunken cruiser for bodies, but were not successful in finding any. The opinion among shipping men and naval officers and officials appears to be unanimous that the accident was unavoidable, being one of the chances of the sea, which all seamen must risk. There will be the usual naval court of inquiry by the board of trade. The officers of both ships refuse to discontinue their affair until they have given their testimony officially.

All witnesses of the disaster agree practically that both crews behaved as well as possible. Coming so soon after the loss of the torpedo boat destroyer Tiger, which was sunk by the cruiser Berwick off the Isle of Wight on April 3 last, 36 men being drowned, the sinking of the Gladiator is a severe blow to the British navy.

Rough weather prevails in the channel today and many of the channel steamers were unable to make their usual trips to the continent.

RESCUERS HEROIC WORK.

Yarmouth, April 26.—Heroic service in rescuing the Gladiator's men was rendered by the royal engineers at Fort Victory. Several of them put out in two small gigs immediately after the collision, and picked up as many of the sailors as they could find in the water, although several men sank within their sight. Corporal Stanning and others of the engineers swam boldly into the sea and rescued some of the most exhausted of the sailors.

The surviving officers of the Gladiator were cared for over night at the residence of the Gladiator's men, and the rescued seamen have recovered from their thrilling experience.

A seaman who was employed in the Gladiator's canteen said, in speaking of the accident:

"It happened at a quarter of 3 o'clock, during what we call 'grog time.' A lot of us were in the canteen when we heard a horrible grinding noise and table vessel heeled over so that we were thrown off our feet. We made for the upper deck as fast as we could, but there was no disorder. When we reached the deck we saw that a steamer was into us amidships, and when she drew out she left an awful hole in the side of our ship. The snow was so thick that it was impossible to see anything on the water."

"Two of our boats were forced free by the collision and two others were damaged as to be useless. It seemed a long time before boats were lowered from the St. Paul and in the meantime some of our men had jumped into the water and were struggling. They must have been nearly frozen. Besides, there was a strong sea running. This proved too much for some of them and they were being floated things until rescued."

LATE LOCALS.

Charles Edler's Body Arrives—The remains of Charles Edler were received from San Francisco yesterday, and placed in the Masonic vault at Mt. Olivet. Mr. Edler's sister arrived here after a long stay in Spokane, and the body was transferred to city cemetery for interment.

Grading Nearly Completed—The grading on Le Grand Young's Emigration canyon electric line is practically completed, so that rail laying can begin the last of this week. Connection with the city street railway system will be made at Fifth South and Thirteenth East streets.

President Smith to Speak—At the joint meeting of the officers of the Y. M. M. I. A. and Y. L. M. I. A., of Liberty street, to be held in the Ninth ward meetinghouse tomorrow night, not only officers, but also parents and friends are invited to be present. President Joseph F. Smith will deliver an address.

CADET ESTIMATES RAISED

Will Now Require $15,000—New Plans Working Successfully.

Because the Oregon Short Line railroad has been unable to offer any concessions from the ordinary excursion rate to San Francisco to see the fleet come in, the Salt Lake High school cadets are seriously thrown out in the calculations of the amount of money it will be necessary to raise, and a new estimate has been necessary, raising the sum for each cadet to $15.50.

The total is raised from about $10,000 to about $15,000. Although the news is discouraging, the finance committee has gone to work on the new basis with enthusiasm and a determination to send the boys anyhow. A big benefit concert will be immediately planned for Thursday evening, at which everyone will be invited to buy a ticket, and attend to show the boys that the city is back of them in their undertaking.

Two hundred and eighty men are listed to make the trip and Dr. Ploutz, E. A. Wedgwood, Principal Eaton, Supt. Christensen and Capt. Webb will make up the other members of the excursion party.

Wednesday the U. C. T. association of Utah will dance at the Odson hall, and the proceeds of the occasion will go into the cadet fund. Five hundred guests have been provided for at the ball.

WOOL PRICES.

According to Chicago Men Utah Fleeces Are Worth 15 Cents.

Officials of the Utah Wool Growers' association have received word from E. J. Kearnes and J. E. Austin, now in Chicago, that Chicagoans say Utah wool is worth from 18 to 20 cents at the current market. The Utah wool is not less than 17 cents per pound at the lowest. With a cent and a half deducted for freight this makes Utah wool worth 16 to 18 cents per pound at the corral, "and," write the association's representatives, "this or more is the price we are confident we will get this season, despite pessimistic and bearing buyers."
